4. Study Effect
The authors of the study conducted a meta-analysis of the effect of the intervention on the outcome. The results of the meta-analysis are presented in Table 2. The overall effect size was 0.28, which is a small to medium effect size. The 95% confidence interval for the effect size was 0.15 to 0.41, which indicates that the effect size is statistically significant. The heterogeneity of the studies was low, with an I-squared value of 12.5%.

and bishops' for GMA

Efrain Genuino, as chair of the Philippine Amusement and Gaming Corp. (Pagcor).

"I need him to survive," Ms Arroyo reportedly told a group of seven Cabinet members. "He takes care of the media and the bishops."

Former Social Welfare Secretary Comcon "Dinly" Soliman revealed the President's supposed reply in a forum conducted yesterday by the Black and White Movement and attended by members of the so-called Hyatt 10, the Cabinet-level officials who resigned on July 8. (See related story on Page A1.)

In opening the press conference, former Education Secretary Florencio Abad also noted the President's reference to Genuino.

Pagcor is one of the country's most profitable corporations, but under Genuino, it has come under repeated fire for alleged mismanagement or abuse of state resources. Since last year, it has also had to answer charges that it helped fund the President's election campaign.

Newsbreak magazine has also published a report, based on the testimony of Pagcor insiders, showing that portions of the "Hello Garci" tapes, earlier identified as conversations that Election Commissioner Virgilio Garcillano had with either ex-Sen. Robert Barbers or First Gentleman Jose Miguel Arroyo, featured Genuino on the other end of the line.

Malacating and Pagcor denied the Soliman story. "I have never heard of this line before," said Cabinet Secretary Ricardo Saludo. Pagcor spokesperson Edward King said Genuino had remained on the job for "performing well" and owing revenues. King also said Pagcor funds were under close scrutiny by the Commission on Audit.

Out of the ordinary

By most accounts, it was an extraordinary meeting, part of a series of unusual gatherings Cabinet officials were holding in June, with or without the President, after the Garcillano scandal broke in the wake of the Senate hearings on the "jueteng" numbers game.

Former Education Secretary Florencio "Butch" Abad told the forum in Malacañan that a small group was tasked by the Cabinet to talk to the President about the jueteng and wiretaps. Abad then called on Soliman, one of the "eyewitnesses," to detail the circumstances of the meeting.

"It was June 19 or 20, in the evening," Soliman said, speaking in Filipino. "There were seven of us, including Vice President [Noli] de Castro."

In the forum, and later in a telephone interview with the Inquirer, Soliman could recall only two other members of that seven-man delegation: Cesar Purisima and Juan Santos, now both members of the Hyatt 10.

In the phone interview with the Inquirer, Soliman was careful to draw the context of the meeting.

Cabinet officials were concerned about "scandals associated with Mike Arroyo," she said, and the smaller group was assigned to propose certain reforms to the President.

At one point in the meeting, the group aired "the proposal that they do self-cede," referring to the First Gentleman, his son Rep. Mikey Arroyo, and his brother, Rep. Iggy Arroyo, all of whom were implicated in the jueteng scandal.

GENUINO: Must "dependable"?

RODOLFO MORALES

Soliman remembered the President's forthright reply: "It is going to happen."

The group then raised a second proposal: "Those that were associated with Mike Arroyo be removed, because rightly or wrongly, the perception is that they are using the agencies for the interest of Mr. Arroyo."

Soliman said the President's initial reply to the second proposal was a question: "Can you give an example?"

Soliman no longer remembers who among the seven answered, but Genuino's name was given, as the only example.

At that, the President reportedly replied: "I need him to survive. He takes care of the media and the bishops."

Dependence on Genuino?

Both in the forum and during the phone interview, Soliman declined to elaborate on what the President's statements meant.

"Yung sinabi ko, 'yung mga naging ka. Walang dagdag, walang hawos (What I said is what I heard, no more, no less)," Soliman said, using a playful reference to the popular short-hand for wholesale election fraud.

In the interview, Soliman said she took the President's words at their face value. "At that point, I just took it for what it meant."

When did she start to think there was more to the President's confession of dependence on Genuino? "After all this talk of high pressure" being exerted by the Palace surfaced, she replied.

At one point in the forum, Soliman turned emotional. "Minsan ko sabihin yun, 'pagkat maging masama ako sa pagpapalagay (It's hard to say all these things about the President, because it's possible that I was part of the deception)." Soliman said, her voice breaking.

To corroborate charges

At the forum, another member of the Hyatt 10, Teresta "Gug" Deles, emphasized the group's willingness to support the impeachment case against Ms Arroyo.

"Yes, there are some of us who can corroborate some of the charges in the complaint," she said, however, that they would wait for the proper venue before airing their corroborative evidence.

Deles noted that while she, Soliman and Abad were members of the "national executive committee" of the President's election campaign, "none of us in the Hyatt 10 had any hint that there were any parallel operations."

A fourth member of the Hyatt 10, Mely Nicolas, stressed the same point. "We were specialty clients. [When the Garci tapes came out,] we were all on denial [sic]."

Think of women

Then she added, referring to the high-profile women, including her sister Loida Nicolas-Lewis, who have taken out advertisements in the newspapers to support of President Arroyo: "I don't think many of them, including my sister, have read the tapes' [transcripts or] Mano Almar's analysis [of election fraud]."

The forum was not without humor, of the black kind. At one point, responding to a question from the floor addressed to the Hyatt 10 members as "public figures," Abad replied: "Actually, we're looking for jobs at the moment. We're not public figures anymore. We're as private as can be." With report from El Burgenia and Christine D. Rosales

THE DAILY GOSPEL

Wednesday, August 31, 2005
22nd Week in Ordinary Time

1st Reading: Col 1:1-8
Gospel: Luke 4:38-44

Leaving the synagogue, Jesus went to the house of Simon. His mother-in-law was suffering from high fever and they asked him to do something for her. Bending over her, he rebuked the fever, and it left her. Immediately she got up and waited on them.

At sunset, people suffering from many kinds of sickness were brought to Jesus. Laying his hands on each one, he healed them. Demons were driven out, howling as they departed from their victims. "You are the Son of God!" He rebuked them and would not allow them to speak, for they knew he was the Messiah.

Jesus left at daybreak and looked for a solitary place. People went out in search of him and, finding him, they tried to dissuade him from leaving. But he said, "I have to go to other towns to announce the good news of the kingdom of God. That is what I was sent to do." So Jesus continued to preach in the synagogues of the Jewish country.

Commentary

Jesus leaves the synagogue and goes to Simon's house and cures Simon's mother-in-law. She rises and waits on them (in gratitude surely). The imagery is that of raising up, of bringing him into new life and ministry. She has been drawn into the circle of disciples—waiting at table on Jesus and the others. And the word spreads and so many come for healing. So many of us are still in need of healing, of wholeness, of release from debilitating sin, self-absorption and the effects that our actions and others have on all of us. Jesus lays hands on each of them (as in confirmation) and those who "know" him because of their illness and sin are told to be silent. These are not acts of faith, but fear and distance from Jesus. And then Jesus retreats to a deserted place to pray, to be alone with his Father. And then they find him and he is off again to the towns, synagogues and houses to do his work on earth. This will be the pattern of his life. It should be ours: to preach the good news to the poor, to comfort, heal, bind the sick, to speak the truth to those who suffer from doing evil, or are the victims of sin and to pray, seeking strength from our God—but to always come back to those who are lost and in need. This is what we are sent to do as well.

Negotiations start on crucial UN document

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Negotiations to draft a new international convention on the rights of the child began today in Geneva, Switzerland. The convention is expected to be adopted by the United Nations General Assembly in 1990.

The new convention will replace the 1954 Convention on the Rights of the Child, which was signed by 113 countries. The new convention is expected to be more comprehensive and to cover a wider range of issues, including the rights of the child in the area of education, health, and social services.

The negotiations are being held in Geneva, Switzerland, at the invitation of the Swiss Government. The United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) is also participating in the negotiations. The convention is expected to be adopted by the United Nations General Assembly in 1990.

COA says P7.7-M water firm fund release illegal

By Richard Gomez
For The Philippine Star

MANILA (Philippine Star) — The Commission on Audit (COA) has ruled that the release of a P7.7-million fund for the water utility firm, Manila Water, is illegal.

The COA said the release of the fund, which was intended for the construction of a water treatment plant, was in violation of the National Water Act of 1991.

The commission said the release of the fund was made without the necessary approval of the Department of Water Resources (DWR).

The COA said the release of the fund was made in violation of the National Water Act of 1991, which requires that all water projects be approved by the DWR.

Luzano filed impeachment rap in 2005 vs GMA

By Wilfredo Lee Miller

MANILA, Jan. 10 (AP) — A former GMA-7 executive filed an impeachment report against the network's former president, Juan P. Luzano, in 2005. The report, which was filed with the House of Representatives, accused Luzano of various offenses, including abuse of power and misuse of funds.

The report was filed by a former GMA-7 executive, who claimed that Luzano had used his position to engage in various illegal activities. The report also accused Luzano of mismanaging the network's finances and of abusing his power over the network's employees.

Nativity like to test baka-laine

By Gene B. Quinsada

MANILA, Nov. 10 (PNA) — A group of students from a school in Manila are planning to stage a play about the life of Jesus Christ, the school principal said.

The play, titled "Nativity Like to Test Baka-Laine," is a parody of the traditional Christmas story. It is set to be performed on Nov. 11.

The school principal said that the play is a way for the students to express their creativity and faith.

Set Polar marker unveiled

By Elyse

MANILA, Nov. 10 (PNA) — A new Polar marker, designed to help police identify and track down suspects, was unveiled today.

The marker, which is a small, white, circular object, is made of a special material that can be seen in the dark.

The police said that the marker is a new addition to their equipment and will be used in the future.

THE WAVE, RAZZI shared. Check it out this Saturday, 8 p.m. on ABC 5, only at "Club TV."

Gonna make that change

EARLY last week, I had an encounter with a Michael Jackson song, a long-forgotten ditty titled "Tabloid Junkie," from Jacko's "History" album. It's about how everybody wants to believe everything one sees and hears, even if it's not the truth. Somehow the words have also been echoing in my head—in a surreal way.

Just because you read it in a magazine

Or see it on the TV screen

Don't make it factual

See, but everybody wants to believe

all about it

She's blonde and she's beautiful

That refrain wasn't referring to me (or to Julie Lew's naked paparazzi pic), but okay, I confess—I have been rehearsing to the tune of this song for a dance rehearsal. Yup, you heard it right, a GUN show (as shall I say, blonde) dance number, choreographed, rehearsed, complete with props and flying chairs, kinks, background dancers, et al—you get the picture? Catch it this Saturday, 8 p.m. on ABC 5's "Club TV" (Sorry, shameless plug right there).

Lately, my life's taken a new dance twist with "Club TV." Think of it as a pre-party of sorts where you get to mingle and dance with your favorite celebrities in a club setting. We have a party princess whose name is Linda Jean, guest stars who co-host with the two of us, such as KC Montero, Jeddida Paris, and for this week, my good buddy Ruffy Mananila. Gab Valenciano and Micky Rogenia both came from dance-related games (Gab is to Gary while Migs is to Gelsen). Add to that the Gunz-based dance group, RNP. Each week is a whole new party experience.

After-party

Everything has indeed been a whole new experience. The peak probably was when we got a special shot to "Miss Miss" by the genius Joey de Leon. I was truly and deeply honored.

Fast forward to a few days later, I found myself writing this column right smack center of an after party to between jokes, and a girl playing with cups, my friend asked me to listen carefully to this newly released longer version of an old anthem. "You gonna make a change, for some in my life." The music became quiet—and then boom! Everybody suddenly joined in the chorus!

I'm still ting with the music in the car

I'm asking him to change his ways
And his makeup would have been any day

If you wanna make the world a better place

Take a look at yourself and make that change

Sometimes, lyrics have a way of talking out to you. Remember Oscar Sarmiento mentions that gave you the goosebumps after suddenly realizing the true meaning of the song?

I've been a victim of a slight bit of love

It's true that I realize that there's one name with no name, and a sister in time

Could it be really me, promising that that's not alone?

It's funny how the role of lyrics plus company plus your state in life makes such a difference. It's like hearing words of advice when you need it the most. Heresayphism, if you wanna call it that.

I walked out at the peak of the pro-

How Michael Jackson affected my life—beyond the gross makeup and the cosmetic re-engineering ty with a smile, knowing that someone up there was crying to deliver a message.

True enough, when I checked my mail, the inbox was full due to feedback from ZBU's young journalists column. I want to share one with you.

"Greetings of peace and love! I am a public school teacher here in Calabar, Pampanga. At present, I am also the reading coordinator and library resource center coordinator. I have always striven to the idea that library knowledge and material resources are by-products of discriminating reading habits. I try to promote reading interest and awareness to my students but I am having difficulty making them to visit the library. I don't blame them. Our library definitely needs a makeover. For one, it has a very slim collection of paperbacks and reference materials.

"I read literature as often as I can. I can't afford to buy my own copy regularly—I wait till the school copy has been read by the 'books.' I read your column and I thought of writing you for assistance. I have e-mailed government and non-government sources and personnel about our need for more books but my request seemed to have fallen on deaf ears.

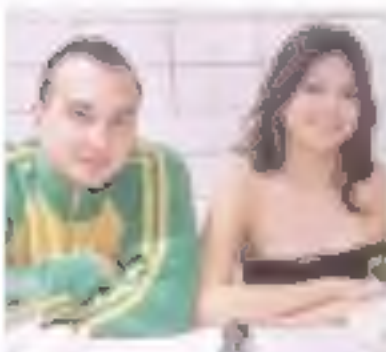

"I do hope you can find it in your heart to share books for us in the province. Or at least send me e-mail addresses of people or agencies who can grant my humble request. I would like to inspire my students to acquire the love for reading, but we need books! Books of great minds and enlightened world! Am I asking for too much? My colleagues think I am wasting my time writing even the politicians to help us out. But I have actually e-mailed several already. Are my efforts really futile? I don't think so. I told myself, I'll press on till I see our library full of books and students having a great time reading.

"Thank you in anticipation for a favorable response.

Respectfully yours,
"AGNES E. BACOGAN"

STYLE

CLOUD NINE. Heaven 'N Eggs offers relaxation and good food.

GRAPE, lemon, bubble gum, lychee, strawberry soda made with the vintage soda fountain

The people behind Heaven 'N Eggs believe in empowering their patrons by giving them a lot of options. Even their pancake syrup comes in four flavors—maple, peach, pineapple, and coconut, which is the favorite. Different toppings (blueberry and apple) are also available. Diners can choose how they want their eggs to be cooked. Meals are served with any two of the following: rice, bread, pancake, mashed potatoes, fries or hash browns.

And their authentic vintage soda fountain machine, which they bought from the US, serves five different flavors—bubble gum, lychee, lemon, grape and strawberry.

Because of the countless choices, the large servings, the excellent service (what else can you expect from people wearing shirts emblazoned with the words "I am your angel?") and reasonable prices, patrons are sure to keep coming back again and again. We're willing to bet that even real angels will sing praises for this Heaven.

Heaven 'N Eggs Glorietta (G/F, Glorietta 4) is open from 7 a.m.-10 p.m. Call 8182792. Heaven 'N Eggs Tomas Morato Ave. (G/F CKB Building, Sct. Rallos St., QC) is open from 7 a.m.-12 mn. Call 3762674.

this range quite a number of times for a good reason. It's luxury skin care for a fraction of the price. It kills breakouts without peeling or burning (thanks to its Sebocalmyl component), and it doesn't damage your skin the way other anti-acne solutions do. I carry around the Spot Treatment, just in case I feel a zonker coming on—it usually kills it on the spot.

Save:

Clean and Clear. Remember, when using this drugstore line, that "it's just a pimple, no big deal." With Clean and Clear, you might actually believe it is. What can be easier than doing your usual three-step system and knowing that you're fighting breakouts at the same time? The foaming facial wash always gets me squeaky clean and confident that every bacterium threatening to ruin my complexion has been gotten rid of, and the oil-free moisturizer is such a grease-buster of a product, I don't need to follow up with powder. Get your hands on this one if you're active, basic, and no-fuss.
